TWO SPEEDERS FINED; MOTOR AND CAR CRASH

Two Motorists Face Judges and are Taxed for Exceeding the Safety Limit

TROLLEY AND AUTO IN MIX-UP DOWN-TOWN

Car Parked at Curb Forces Goodale Into Track of Street Car

ENFORCEMENT of automobile regulations over Monday resulted in the arrest and fining of two speeders for exceeding the safety limit.

And one more was added to the season's rapidly growing list of motor smash-ups in the city.

The speeders who faced the court were:

Albert Reburn, postal employe, $20 and costs in county court.

Herbert Geske, 1124 West avenue south, $12.50 in police court.

Geske was taken into court by the motorcycle cop.

Lucien T. Reid, district attorney, and Stanley F. Anderson of the La Crosse Overland company, were sitting on the porch of Mr. Reid's home at 1516 State street Sunday night with not much of anything on their minds when suddenly out of the night there came a roar.

Slam! Bang! Whiz!

Car Shoots Past House

An automobile shot past the Reid residence. It was traveling with all the speed the motor was capable of producing, judging from the noise it made.

"Better get that bird," said Reid to Anderson, who had his car parked in front of the house. Anderson started in pursuit, obtained the number of the car and learned the identity of the driver, Albert Reburn, a postoffice employe.

Reid swore out a warrant charging Reburn with exceeding the speed limit. He was arraigned before Judge Brindley in county court Tuesday and fined $20 and costs. Reburn pleaded guilty to the charge.

Jury Trial for Churchill

Charles Churchill was arraigned before County Judge Brindley Monday afternoon on charges of exceeding the speed limit within the city. He pleaded not guilty, demanded a jury trial and the case was adjourned to July 7 at 2 p. m. Churchill is charged with faster than 20 miles an hour on Mormon Coulee road. His car collided with a small sedan from St Michael's orphanage in which several sisters were riding. After striking the sedan, Churchill's car struck a telegraph pole, breaking it off several feet from the ground. It is understood that a civil action has been brought against Churchill for damages to the orphanage car.

Trolley and Auto Collide

An accident involving the collision of a street car with the automobile of Frank Goodale, 1432 George street, occurred at the intersection of Third and State streets Monday afternoon. There were no injuries.

According to the report of the accident, Goodale was traveling west on State street and had turned to go north on Third. A car parked at the curb forced the driver out to the car tracks as he turned on Third street. Unable to drive ahead of the automobile which was parked close to the street car, Goodale stopped and was struck by the car, it was said.

The front axle of the auto was bent and one of the wheels broken.

PRAYERS AND SALARIES ONLY LEGISLATIVE ITEMS THAT SHOW NO INCREASE

MADISON, Wis.—Prayers and salaries are the only two items that have not increased in compiling the costs of the present session of the legislature.

Three dollars a prayer is the honorarium the state pays to the chaplains of sixteen denominations that have opened the 111 daily sessions of this legislature. With an even hundred members in the assembly the cost per legislator for the session in the lower house for prayers is $3.33. There being but thirty-three members in the senate the cost per member in that house to date is an even $10. The total cost of prayers in both houses to date is now $666.

That prayers are but a small item in the total cost can be easily seen when figures obtained from the secretary of state show that the cost of the six-month session of law making is $204,490. Of this amount the printing of the bills, calendars, bulletins, records and acts has run up to $54,164.22. Salaries for members of the assembly count up to $50,500 while salaries of the senate run up to $16,500. The mileage costs for the members of the senate is $1,05.70 as compared with $3,160.20 for members of the lower house.

The other expenses are: Senate clerical staff, $19,956; senate sergeant's staff, $11,404; assembly clerical staff, $21,496; assembly sergeant's staff, $14,998.50; postage and supplies, $6,677.32; assembly contingent expenses, $264.32; senate contingent expenses $66.42; joint committee on finance, $3,294.63; joint committee on reapportionment, $361.53; legislative visiting committee, $687.98; and the cost of visiting the proposed Northern Lakes Park completes the total with $214.18.

RESULT OF BALLOT ON WAGE CUT STILL IN DOUBT--JEWELL

Rail Union Chief Brands as Misleading Report Order Has Been Rejected

CHICAGO, Ill.—Reports of an overwhelming vote for rejection of an average eight per cent wage reduction recently ordered for all railroad shop employes by the United States railroad labor board were branded as misleading and unreliable Tuesday by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts organizations. Only about two-thirds of the vote has been counted, according to Mr. Jewell, who added that "a few votes might swing it either way."

A meeting of the general chairmen of the shop crafts has been called to meet here on July 1. All other railroad union organizations will also meet here on the same date to determine further action.

NEW LAW PREVENTS GIRLS SERVING AS HOTEL BELL BOYS

MADISON, Wis.—Girls under 21 are barred from hotel service as bellboys under a law which went into effect Tuesday. Heavy penalty is provided for punishment of hotel-keepers who violate provisions of the new act.

This is the first of eight child welfare bills passed by the legislature on recommendation of the senate education and public welfare committee, to become law.

WORLD WAR VETERAN IS NAMED CHIEF OF POLICE AT KENOSHA

KENOSHA, Wis.—Thad Logan, overseas veteran of the world war, became acting chief of police of Kenosha Tuesday morning, succeeding Chief of Police Owen O'Hare, who resigned his office following a grand jury indictment. Logan is 27 years of age.

The appointment of Logan came as a big surprise, as he was one of the youngest men in the department. He returned from overseas only a few months ago and had returned to his place on the force less than two months ago.

RATE COMMISSION ORDERS INCREASE IN ILLINOIS FARES

WASHINGTON.—Passenger fares in Illinois, on the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railway, an interurban line, were ordered raised to the interstate level September 1, by the interstate commerce commission.

It is estimated, the commission said, that a uniform three-cent fare will yield during the year ending October 31, a return of 8.96 percent on the estimated value of the road allowing for a decrease of ten percent in the volume of traffic, while with traffic undiminished it would bring a return of 6.89.

If the Illinois state fare is not increased, it was estimated that the road's operating income on the decreased traffic would yield a return of 1.37 percent.

BRITISH COAL MINE STRIKE AT END TODAY

Official Announcement Made of Settlement of Strike in Progress for Three Months

MINERS WILL RESUME THEIR WORK ON MONDAY MORNING

Parliament Asked by Lloyd George to Authorize Subsidy to Mining Industry

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The British coal mine strike which has been in progress since April 1, has been settled, it was officially announced Tuesday afternoon.

It is understood that Mr. Lloyd George, the prime minister, will ask parliament Tuesday afternoon to authorize the granting of a ten million pound subsidy to the mining industry. The miners will resume work generally next Monday if the subsidy is granted. The government offered this subsidy several weeks ago, but withdrew it after the recent proposition by the owners for a settlement had been voted down by the miners.

The general understanding is that the submission of the subsidy proposition to parliament is a mere formality, and that the grant will be voted.

BANDITS ROB HOTEL AND ESCAPE IN CAR FROM TREMPEALEAU

E. L. Martin, Proprietor, Organizes Posse and Pursues Burglars When Awakened

AUTO burglars in a stolen motor car robbed the hotel at Trempealeau about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning and got away after a long chase by a hastily organized posse. The stolen car was discovered abandoned at Marshland Junction, and the three burglars were tracked to East Winona, where they were lost in the marsh along the Burlington tracks.

So far as was ascertained on Tuesday the only loot was $60 in gold coins and about $40 worth of watches and other jewelry which was taken by the trio from a punchboard in the hotel office. The car used in the burglary was stolen Monday evening in Winona. It was the property of W. J. Rademacher, a leading wholesale druggist of that city.

The fact that the prowlers kicked over a chair in the office of the hotel probably prevented a further looting of the establishment. The noise awakened the proprietor, E. L. Martin, and he hastened downstairs. The burglars, however, heard him coming, and were getting out of the place when he arrived. To his demand that they stop one of them shouted an oath, and all three jumped into the waiting car and sped off. Mr. Martin hastily got together a small posse and half an hour later the pursuit of the burglars was under way. The abandoned car was found at Marshland Junction, and tracks in the road showed that the three occupants had headed back for Bluff Siding and East Winona.

The posse found a freight train at East Winona, and one of the brakemen reported seeing three young men answering Martin's description of the burglars in the marsh near the north end of the yards. The train was searched but the trio was not found, and all trace of them disappeared in the marsh.

Winona and La Crosse police were notified to be on the watch for the burglars. It was suggested that they might be the same gang responsible for the jewelry store robbery at Prairie du Chien Sunday evening.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO PROHIBIT THE SALE OF BEER ON PRESCRIPTION

COUNCIL PROTESTS BILL GIVING SCHOOL BOARD TAX POWERS

Mayor Authorized to Wire Disapproval of Bill Now Awaiting Blaine's Signature

KNUTSON CONGRATULATED ON INDUSTRIAL BODY APPOINTMENT

Mayor's Committee Asks for Paving Estimates

At a special meeting of the common council Monday night, Mayor Bentley was authorized to wire a protest to the governor against senate bill 147, a measure that gives school boards throughout the state power to levy taxes for school purposes, without having to bring the matter before the city council. The bill has been passed by both houses of the legislature and is now in the hands of the governor. According to the mayor, today is the last in which cities desiring to protest against the bill have in which to get in their complaint.

Council Unanimously Opposed

Sixteen aldermen were present at the special meeting Monday night and they were unanimously against the bill. The mayor branded the measure as vicious legislation. He told of his campaign against the bill, how he had taken the situation up with the League of Municipalities and had written every mayor who is a member of this league and urged them to send their protest to Madison.

Senate bill 147 has been amended several times. Mayor Bentley declared, but the act still is unsatisfactory. The bill was amended so that instead of a two-mill levy, school boards could assess only a one and a half mill tax, and that a referendum vote should be taken on the first levy made by the board.

Knutson Congratulated

Alderman Murray read a resolution wishing R. G. Knutson, former alderman and labor leader, success in his new position as industrial commissioner and calling on the councilmen to attend the public reception to be given in his honor Wednesday night in Eagles' hall. The resolution was passed unanimously.

Before the council meeting the mayor's special committee met to discuss the proposed site for a new causeway and also the question of street paving. It was decided that the city's committee on the new causeway route should meet with a committee from the county board and report to the council some time in August. The committee also asked for estimates on the cost of brick paving on Second street, from King to Division; King street from Second to Third; Cass, Second to Tridd, and Mt. Vernon, Front to Second streets. The city engineer also was instructed to submit specifications for resurfacing and repairing streets over which state highway lines run, to the county board for approval. The county board has appropriated $40,000 to be added to the city's fund for resurfacing streets.

COMMITTEE MEETING CALLED ON THURSDAY

A meeting of the committee on administration has been called to be held in the city hall at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday, June 30, according to announcement of the office of the city clerk.

The meeting is called for the purpose of considering applications for liquor license.

Mail Planes To Make Last Trip Thursday

Airplanes in the Chicago-La Crosse-Twin city mail service will hum merrily over La Crosse for the last time, at least for several months, on Thursday.

Official notification that the airmail service over this route would be abandoned on June 30 was received by mechanics at the Salzer field here Monday, and preparations for the removal of equipment from the field and its transfer to Chicago are already under way.

Hope of a resumption of the airmail service over this route is held out by postoffice officials. C. F. Egge, who has been serving as superintendent of the service in this district, has been appointed superintendent of the New York-San Francisco airmail route. Mr. Egge, it is believed here, will exert every effort when funds are provided to extend the airmail service and if additional routes are authorized, the Chicago-La Crosse-Twin city service will probably be one of the first re- established.

ANTI-BEER BILL PASSES BY VOTE OF 250 TO 93

Seven of Wisconsin Representatives Oppose Passage of Bill Barring Beer and Light Wine

ACTION FOLLOWS FOUR HOURS OF HEATED DEBATE IN HOUSE

Nebraskan Charges Return of "Gag Rule" With Rules Committee Dominating

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The bill to prohibit beer as medicine will be sent to President Harding before the Fourth of July, Senator Sterling of South Dakota, chairman of the senate judiciary sub-committee in charge of the measure, said Tuesday. The measure passed Monday by the house has reached the senate and went to Senator Sterling's committee, from which a prompt report is expected.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The house Monday night, by a vote of 250 to 93, decided that beer and light wines shall not be used as a medicine in the United States.

It passed the Willis-Campbell bill, supplementing the Volstead prohibition enforcement act, to forestall the execution of a regulation providing for the prescription of beer and light wines as medicine held by former Attorney General Palmer to be within the law.

The bill has not yet passed the senate, but is expected to be considered by that body in the near future. Meanwhile regulations to permit prescription of beer and light wines are being held up by the commissioner of internal revenue.

How Mid-Westerners Voted

Members from the middle western states who voted against the bill were:

Illinois

Britten, Kunz, Madden, Rodenberg, and Sabath.

Wisconsin

Beck, Classon, Kleczka, Lampert, Stalford, and Voight.

Michigan

Brennan.

Minnesota

Davis and Keller.

Iowa

Wide Range of Hot Row

The vote came after four hours of debate, during which heated interchanges, charges and countercharges were made, and the discussion ranged from Rameses I of Egypt to "Cannonism."

Representative Reavis of Nebraska, republican, a member of the judiciary committee, whose original bill to supplement the Volstead act was rejected by the rules committee, complained that the gag rule of the days of Cannonism had returned, but that instead of one man, the speaker, dominating, the rules committee had assumed this function.

The Nebraskan said that he stood humiliated before the house, since the rules committee not only tells the judiciary committee what it cannot do but almost what it must do.

A Bunch of Dictators

The judiciary committee, he said, had given careful consideration to its bill for three weeks, only to be told by the rules committee it could not come upon the floor and that the Campbell bill, introduced by Mr. Campbell, chairman of the rules committee, was all the legislation that could be had on this subject.

Mr. Campbell, replying to Reavis, denied that the rules committee undertook to act as "czar" of the house. At the same time he pointed out that the rules committee eighteen months ago had caused ill feeling in the judiciary committee because it refused to allow the old wartime sedition bill, reported favorably by the committee, to come up for action.

"Not a man today would say that bill should pass," declared Mr. Campbell, waving his arms.

Compliment to Texan

"I would," interjected Mr. Blanton of Texas.

"That shows there's only one, then," Mr. Campbell said, "for if the gentleman from Texas supported it no one else would."

At the outset of the debate Mr. Volstead explained the purposes and the expected operation of the proposed bill.

Representative Volght of Wisconsin, an opponent of the measure, insisted that the enforcement of the Volstead prohibition act had become a "comedy."

The people, he said, violated the law, believing that to do so was not a moral wrong, but with the idea they were merely matching their wits against the prohibition enforcement officers.

Rich Man Can Drink

He said it was proposed to ban the beer of the poor man as medicine, while admitting the use of the rich man's

NORMANNA HAS AN OLD RECORD IN LA CROSSE

Gave Good Concerts Over Forty Years Ago According to the Early Files

The entirely justifiable habit of the local press to hail with pride and enthusiasm each appearance of the Normanna Sangerkor is an ancient one, dating at least as early as 1878. Evidence for this is to be found in a recently rediscovered scrap book containing among other documents clippings from the Chronicle and the Republican, forebears of the present publication.

"Roundabout Papers" containing "Transitory Notes of the Day's Doings All Over Town," clipped from the Chronicle of October 31, 1878, holds an account of the Mendelssohn concert of the previous evening in which the Sangerkor took an important part. "The Normanna Sangerkor appeared with one of their sweet, melodious performances that took hold on the feelings and sympathies of the audience from the beginning, and at the end were greeted with an enthusiastic encore . . . which was very sweetly and effectively rendered and again called forth applause. . . . This chorus of gentlemen are always hailed with compliments and dismissed with regret."

The "Republican" of November 23 of the same year, reporting the entertainment given under the auspices of the Thalia society on the 22nd, says, "The concluding numbers of the musical portion of the entertainment was the male chorus, 'Olaf Trygvason,' which was sung by the Normanna Sangerkor. This is the same piece that was given by the Norwegian-Swedish students at the Paris exposition, 1878, and was received with rapturous applause, being pronounced a perfect gem. It was beautifully rendered by the Sangerkor, who sang without accompaniment. The greater part of the audience had never heard them before and they were completely captivated by the perfect manner in which they sang."

With a proud record of these fifty-two years behind Normanna Sangerkor celebrates the anniversary of its founding Wednesday evening, June 29. It is interesting to note that "Olaf Trygvason" which is one of the finest numbers written for a male chorus will be sung again on this occasion.

Some men are good fishermen; others can't lie.

FIVE CHANGES IN STATE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED DURING PRESENT SESSION

MADISON, Wis.—Five changes are proposed to the present constitution at this session of the legislature. This is the largest number of changes that have been urged since 1913, when more than a dozen proposals were made, practically all of which were defeated.

The changes which the legislature favored are:

Providing that sheriffs may succeed themselves in office.

Granting home rule to cities and villages.

The legislature may provide that valid verdicts in civil cases may be returned by not fewer than five-sixths of the jury.

Giving the legislature power to fix the salary of the governor.

Authorizing cities to incur an indebtedness on the property value to acquire public utilities.

The proposal to allow a sheriff to succeed himself has attracted much attention in the last three legislative sessions. When the state constitution was drafted the sheriff's office was one of the most important and it was then on a fee basis. The framers of the constitution feared that the financial end of this office was so great on the fee basis that the power should not be given to a sheriff to succeed himself. In more recent years the sheriff's office in most of the counties has been put on a salary basis and this does away with the necessity of prohibiting a sheriff to succeed himself. There seems to have been a general demand for this change and it has gone through both sessions of the legislature by practically unanimous votes.

Cities of the state will be allowed to incur an indebtedness of five per cent for the purpose of acquiring public utilities. The present limitation in the constitution is 5 percent for all purposes. The proposed change is to allow an additional 5 percent, but the addition can only be used for public utility purchases. The idea for this change seems to have originated in the city of Superior, where the taking over of some of the larger utilities has been proposed. This is a move in favor of municipal ownership of these enterprises.

Many years ago the salary of the governor was fixed in the constitution at $5,000 a year. Changed conditions have resulted in the state paying several of its subordinate officials more than this amount. The secretary of the state board of education, the state engineer and the highway engineer are now receiving more than the governor. The change now proposed is to allow the legislature to fix the salary of the governor, but it shall not be fixed at less than $5,000 annually. Gov. Philipp, when in office, declared that he spent much more than his salary in conducting the ordinary affairs of the office and this statement resulted in the movement in the legislature two years ago to have the salary changed.

In both civil and criminal cases it has always in this state required a unanimous verdict. The proposed change will not affect criminal cases, but it will allow five men in a jury of six and ten men in a jury of twelve to bring in a verdict in a civil case.

Here's why
CAMELS are
the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

Winter Comfort Demands Heat—But You Want More Than That

WE must have heat in winter, and it is logical that we want comfort—and convenience as well. Neither is possible without a substantial trustworthy heating plant.

The higher grade of warm air furnace, cafefully and seientifically made and installed does give you this solid comfort and convenience—without disquieting thoughts of fuel consumption and expense of repair bills.

Dependable satisfaction in heating simply means that in cold weather you can depend on your home being well heated and that your fuel bills will be less than those of your neighbors who may have an inferior heating apparatus.

It also means that such inconvenience as coal dust, dirt and ashes will be strictly confined to the room in the basement set aside for your furnace.

We hope to tell you, in a series of advertisements, just what a warm air furnace consists of and to explain to you exactly why the WEIR warm air furnace excels all others.

BOAST NOT

BOAST not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs 27: 1.

Disarmament Arguments

THE Japanese navy is to be re-organized on a less expensive basis. One squadron is to be abolished and other changes are to be undertaken looking toward a general reduction of the establishment. Good news, as far as it goes, for American taxpayers bending under the load of a competitive naval building program.

Still better news, in a way, was the result of the first of the aviation vs. battleship tests now being undertaken. A submarine, out at sea, was found and sunk in eleven minutes by the first airplane squadron that went after it. The same thing is to be tried with dummy bombs against the battleship Indiana. One feels confident of the outcome. If 'planes can hit as small a target as a submarine from four thousand feet in air they should not have much trouble in making hits on a dreadnought a couple of blocks long.

Perhaps, even if common sense and the almost universal demand of public opinion will not convince the navalists, this expeditious destruction of costly floating fortresses by mechanical insects costing a few thousands apiece will help. Even the most devoted apostle of huge armament will have to reconsider his declaration that big battleships and lots of them are necessary for defense when it is thus demonstrated that they are, attacked by airplanes, only floating tombs for their hundreds of fighting men.

A great airplane fleet, of course, will not be disarmament in the sense that advocates of disarmament hope to see. Instead of less destructive material to make war more difficult and less probable, the big air fleet may be more lethal. But at least it would only cost a fraction as much. It would make taxes lighter and give the nation more money to spend for constructive enterprise. And that's a very great deal.

Showing the Comrades

IT'S tough on Russia, but Russian experiments with communism are doing the world some service. They are exposing the fallacies inherent in the theories of Marx and other apostles of class hostility and social revolution. Heretofore opponents of these theories who pointed out their weak spots and asserted they could never successfully run a civilized state could be easily disposed of by calling them interested attorneys of the existing order. Communism had never been tried. No one could say with certainty whether or not it would be an improvement on the existing order. Abstractly, the communist's prediction was just as valid as his opponent's.

Lenine has changed this. The disciple of communism today cannot stick to pretty theory in his propaganda. He must look to Russia to see how it works. And it isn't working to any extent. Russian communism itself is admitting that it doesn't work, and returning by easy progressive stages to the private ownership theory of property and the capitalistic organization of society. Opponents of communism find their task much easier. They do not have to ask the public to reason out the inevitable failure and impossibility of the theory. They have only to draw the contrast between Russia, miserable and starving under communism, and the rest of the civilized world. Capitalism is not a perfectly successful system, but it gets more people fed and clothed and produces and distributes more comfort and convenience than communism, obviously. Russia is setting an example from which the world is not slow to draw deductions in terms of its own welfare.

Even some gentlemen who were lately communists are beginning to have their doubts. One observes, as an indication of this, the action of the American socialist party in eliminating "dictatorship of the proletariat" from consideration as a party tenet. This has hitherto been one of the strong points of the dogma of class warfare. Eliminating it seems to be confessing by default that government by all classes is more to be desired than government by one class. This is one of the major points of conflict between capitalism and socialism; capitalism long since resigned its claims to be the ruling power. Every modern state is more or less of a democracy. Russia is gradually finding it necessary to swing back to the same status, after its sudden shift from one extreme of autocracy to another. The lesson is not lost on the world—not even on the comrades. They still insist the present system is all wrong, but they are not so cocksure as they were about what ought to take its place. It is an improved state of mind.

Senators and Admirals

ADMIRAL SIMS has been spanked—with justice as he himself admits—for a speech on the Irish question which was embarrassing to his government. But speeches just as embarrassing, on Ireland, on Japan, on France, on England, on Mexico—well, on about every other country in the world that is important enough to mention—are made almost daily in the sacred chambers of the senate or one or another of our state legislatures. It must be a bit galling to a senator (and it was a senator incidentally that called down the wrath of Washington on Admiral Sims) to reflect that while a mere admiral's indiscretion can become an international incident the most blazing impudence or insolence, the most vicious piece of meddling in foreign relations that he might discharge before "the greatest deliberative body in the world" would be a dud. It might get a column in the domestic press, if it were otherwise a quiet day for news, but the cables wouldn't bother with it beyond a paragraph or so. This seems to place admirals on a more important plane than senators, which is obviously unfair—or is it? We would not presume to say, merely being interested to note this peculiarity of human and political relativity. Perhaps an explanation may be found in the old fable about the boy who cried "Wolf!" The country is so used to the fulminations of politics and politicians that it fails to be jarred by even their most careful explosions. And other countries are not offended, because they have politicians of their own and have learned the need for "making allowances." At any rate, it is fortunate. If senators and others were always taken seriously we should probably be a nation of hysteria-victims chiefly engaged in war.

Faulty System

CALIFORNIA dispatches recently told of great piles of harvested fruit there being left to rot. Now come reports of many thousand barrels of potatoes being dumped back into the fields in southern Aroostook county, Maine. That was because the price had dropped to forty cents a barrel. Often such losses are a result of speculation, growers or buyers holding out for a rise which fails to come. Every resident of La Crosse is a victim of the faulty economic system which permits such a waste.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Prior to the adjournment of the final session of the German Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin which met at the First German Lutheran church of this city during the past week the Rev. J. T. Gamm, pastor of the local church, was elected delegate to the annual sessions of the German Lutheran meeting of the northwest which is to convene in Mankato, Minn., in August.

W. R. Turnbull, for fifty years a resident of La Crosse, who left here in September, 1919, to establish his home in Deer Lodge, Mont., is visiting his grandson, William R. Turnbull, 718 Cameron Avenue. He is on his way to the Spiritualist Encampment at Wonewoc, Wis.

The county officials of La Crosse, about eighty in number, left for Eagle Bluff in Otto's and Singer's launches about 8:30 this morning to hold their annual picnic.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The board of public works is facing a problem that has given considerable trouble and annoyance for a number of years and which it is now proposed to settle. Complaints are numerous about the debris being dumped on the causeway. A watch has been set to detect the persons who dumped the debris but it has been unsuccessful.

Drs. Oscar and Mary Houck and J. A. Bradfield and wife are attending the fifty-fifth annual meeting of the state medical society at Waukesha.

Edward Wimmer has purchased the grocery business of Oberst Brothers on the corner of Sixth and Market streets.

Albert Hardy of Platteville, formerly superintendent of schools in this city, is here visiting with old friends.

William Rodenburg, a farmer living in Bostwick Valley, was instantly killed in a runaway Wednesday night while returning from Barre Mills where he had gone to purchase hay rope. Rodenburg was passing the white school house near the Lutheran church, when his horses started up suddenly, throwing him from the wagon seat and breaking his neck.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Two mission schools have been organized by the Presbyterian church, one is on Green Bay street and has sixty-three pupils, the other is on Badger street and has ninety-seven enrolled.

M. Guenther and Peter Schintgen have purchased the property now occupied by W. S. Mercer and C. W. Viner on Main street. They purchased it from Nathan Myrick, paying $200 a front foot which made the price $10,000.

The La Crosse Lumber company is now running nights, working up the logs of P. S. Davidson. It took the last surplus man in the city to make up a crew.

Colonel F. H. Hankerson has received a letter from Adjutant General Joseph B. Doe, stating that Governor Peck and his entire staff are making arrangements to spend the Fourth of July in La Crosse when the completion of the new bridge will be celebrated.

There will be a Jewish excursion from La Crosse to Winona July 10. On July 16 the congregation of Colman Methodist church will picnic in Dresbach. Both excursions will be made on the Warsaw.

FOR LOVE OF A CLOWN

BY JANE OSBORN

People were walking slowly, sometimes stopping in front of the main window of Dugan's house furnishing store. There was an occasional giggle, sometimes a burst of laughter and such comments as: "Isn't he too impertinent!" "He's looking right at me—now he's beckoning!" "Such a thing for an able-bodied man to be doing!"

Sarah Taylor made it a principle never to stop to look in store windows. Moreover, she never lingered with the crowd. When she came by trolley to Centertown every Saturday morning from her farm, six miles out, it was with a list of needed articles to buy. She was never induced to buy anything that was not on that list.

She kept on walking as she turned to see what the loiterers were gazing at in Dugan's window. There she saw a long, lank clown in the usual voluminous clown suit, in wide red and white stripes. His face was chalked white and he had a triangular patch or red to define his nose. He was pushing a vacuum cleaner with one hand over a small piece of carpet on which he had sprinkled sand. With the other he was beckining to the loiterers outside, beckoning and grinning invitingly, now looking straight at this one and now at that.

As Miss Taylor turned to look, the clown looked right at her, grinned and beckoned.

"The idea!" exclaimed Miss Taylor, still turning and apparently unable to take her eyes from the eyes on the other side of the glass that fixed her so intently. She colored with something akin to anger. She saw the antics ties of the clown were directing the gaze of the loiterers on her.

"Well, I won't go in and buy one of his sweepers," she told whoever wished to listen, as she made for the entrance of Dugan's store, "but I'll just go in and see Mr. Dugan and tell him what I think of having a fellow standing in his window there making fools out of people passing by."

The clown met her at the door, eagerly.

"I want to let Mr. Dugan know what I think of letting a fool like you——," began the irate Miss Taylor. Then, the color suddenly left her cheeks and she felt limp all over. "Sam," she whispered. "I never dreamed it was you."

Samuel Warren, who had not recognized Sarah Taylor until she entered the store, felt almost as unnerved as she, but he had presence of mind to lead her into a corner of the store set aside for his use in receiving prospective customers."

"I always thought," said Sarah, "that I might meet you again, but I never thought it would be like this. I'm sorry you've had such bad luck. When I heard your uncle had taken you into business with him I thought maybe you'd have the chance you needed."

But Sam didn't want to talk about himself. He wanted first to hear of Sarah Taylor. Eagerly he seized upon the facts she divulged. She had not married, she had gone to live on a farm left her by an uncle. She had an old farmer and his wife who helped out, but it was clear that she did much of a man's work in making a meager living out of the worn-out land.

"It was ten years ago, too," she said with embarrassment. "I was 20 and you were 22—I didn't think we would be like this when we met." She looked down at her shabby coat and gave a little tug at her hat, which was not of recent vintage.

"And that night when you sent me off—do you remember what you told me?" reminded Sam. "You told me I could go and stay until I made good. You told me I was a clown—and it is as a clown that you find me." Sam laughed with genuine amusement.

"I was so young," Sarah defended. "You were all the time reading, and I thought you ought to be getting out and making money. I didn't know how hard it is to succeed then, Sam—I—"

"Then you wouldn't be so hard on me now?" Sam asked, and he was leaning so close to Miss Sarah Taylor that the sales folk at Dugan's who chanced to be looking on thought he had surely "landed another order." One of them approached and Sam changed the tone of his voice. He stood up and extended the cleaner to Miss Taylor.

"So you think this medium size will be satisfactory," he said briskly. "Let me see—what was the address?"

"Barlow's lane, the first place on the right as you turn from the main turnpike," said Sarah in a frightened voice, and then, "but I'll take it on the one condition—that you deliver it personally and give a demonstration at my own house. Come tomorrow sometime, if you can?"

"I'll come tonight, say at 7 o'clock" announced the clown, who appeared to be entirely the eager salesman. And as the salespeople at Dugan's were still within hearing Miss Sarah Taylor went away without any further explanation to this man to whom she had once been engaged and from whom she had now been separated for ten years.

"Well, I'm blessed!" exclaimed one of the saleswomen who had looked on. "That was Miss Sarah Tayor, lives out in the country five miles from any electric connection. What's she doing ordering an electric cleaner? Believe me, its some salesmanship that can make folks do a thing like that.

Samuel Warren carried a heavy vacuum cleaner when he walked into the unkempt driveway at the first place on the right as you turn from the main turnpike on Barlow's lane. But he did so only as a matter of form. He had carried it from his roadster, which he left locked a few hundred feet back in the lane.

"You had to carry that all the way from the trolley?" queried Miss Sarah Tayor. "And I don't know as I'm going to buy it after all; I haven't any electricity. I just said I wanted you to bring it so you would come out. I wanted to talk to you."

"What did you want to say?" queried Sam in a tone that made Sarah feel very young again. It was only after many false starts on the part of Sarah, and much encouraging on the part of Sam, that she was finally off with her little speech.

"Only this," she faltered at last. "I have earned to judge men differently from the way I used to. I sent you off that night because I thought you didn't care about getting ahead in the world, and now I don't care if you haven't. Sam the farm here needs a young man, and we would at least get our living from it. It would be better than having to stand there in the window and look such a fool. I respect you for doing it, but I know times must have gone hard with you before you accepted that proposition. So, Sam, if you want to there is a place waiting here on the farm—"

Sam listened as she slowly developed her little speech. Then he laughed and took her in his arms and laughed a little more. Made good was exactly what he had done. He had been taken in by his uncle in the electrical appliances company and had been instrumental in making that company one of the largest in the country. He was trying to add new force to their selling department. He wanted to see what a live man with imagination could do to get the small-town sales which their company had usually not been able to wrest from competitors. He had decided that the first thing the small-town people needed to get them to buy one of the cleaners or washing machines his company produced was to get them talking.

So he had hit upon the idea of using a method out of the ordinary in window displays. A good-natured looking clown would attract attention. He could look straight out at the people and beckon to the people as a man in ordinary guise could not do. What these people needed was that bit of personal contact.

The sales department said their demonstrators balked at such a proposition. They said they couldn't sell vacuum cleaners that way. But Sam thought they could. So he had started out trying it for himself. He had been doing the territory adjacent to Centertown for two weeks, and more orders had come in and there were more prospects than had ever been known in that territory before. Sam hadn't known that Sarah had moved to Centertown. He thought of her still in another state.

"I am so confused," was all the distressed Sarah could say. "Please feel that I have never said what I said."

"But why?" urged Sam in the convincing tone that had been one of his big business assets. "If we forget that, then I'll have to take time to tell you how much I want you to marry me and come with me. But if we let your proposal stand, then we won't have to waste time on such preliminaries. We can hop right into my little roadster stowed away down the road and make tracks for the nearest marriage license bureau."

SERIOUS

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

My aunts all were married but one, and she was Aunt Jane, my mother's oldest sister.

She lived not very far from us, and I saw her often.

She was almost as much in our home as in that of her brother, where she habitually lived.

She had charge of the darning, mending and all such like things. Also she helped in emergencies in either home.

I was not always a comfort to her. I was more noisy than she liked, and I had other faults which need not here be enumerated.

Same Answer

One day she talked to me upon some serious subject, and I turned it into mirth.

"Will you never become serious?" she asked of me.

Unabashed, I answered, "I hope not."

I was about to leave, but she called me back. "Wait," she said, "I have something to say to you. I asked if you are never to become serious, and you answered, 'I hope not.' Did you say that flippantly, or do you mean it?"

I thought a little, and said, "I am afraid I said it flippantly; but now that I think about it seriously, I still think I want to make the same answer."

"Good!" said she. "I hope so, too."

Her Reason

Then she said something like this: "This world is rather a serious place, and it is not to be taken frivolously. But it is a world to be taken with high heart and a cheerful spirit.

"If you enter into life with a gaiety that is nothing but frivolity, life will prove too strong for you; but if you face it with a lightness of heart that comes from a happy spirit and a genuine moral courage, nothing that happens here can ever daunt you.

"That is what I hope you mean when you say that you hope you are never to become serious."

I fear I had not meant all that she had in mind; and yet she was right in thinking that my answer was not wholly flippant.

There are people who have no measure of seriousness but discouragement and inertia. They would profit if they could know the value of a cheerful mind, and the habit of facing life with a light heart.

That was what my Aunt Jane meant.

Stealing and Running Bases

Written especially for the Boys and Girls Newspaper by

Curtis Walker

Of the New York National League Club

It is better, in most cases, to try to steal to third base than it is to second.

Pitchers seldom attempt to throw to second because they must make a turn to get the ball to the base. It is not so difficult for him to get it to first. This fact makes it easier for a runner to lead off second than first base.

When a catcher sees a man stealing off first he has little difficulty in throwing to that base, for it is on his right side.

Practice Sliding

While it isn't much harder for him to throw to third, it does take a second or so longer, generally, because he must turn slightly.

Sliding is something that can be learned through practice. Practice to see how fast you can slide and how far away from the base you should start so you will not go over it.

Take care not to slide over the base, but slide into it good and hard.

Be Limber When Sliding

When you slide do it in such a position that you can get up quickly after you have touched the bag and head for the next base if you have the opportunity.

It is a good idea to slide even when you don't have to. It's a good practice. Besides, it relieves the muscles of the strain that is placed upon them by stopping quickly in an upright position.

Never slide into a base with your legs stiff. Be limber. But just as soon as you touch the bag stiffen your muscles and dig your under knee into the ground. It helps you to get up quickly and hurry away. Besides, the stiffened muscles serve as a brake.

What Shall I Write About?

"Things I Have Made and How I Made Them," will be especially interesting to boys and girls who like to "do things." Perhaps the thing you made will be just what some one else would like to know how to make.

This is your newspaper. We will be glad to hear from you. Address your letters, contributions, news of your club, scout organization, or neighborhood, to the Editor of the boys and girls section, care of this newspaper.

ROTARY CLUB MAKES LIST OF BOYS WHO REALLY DO THINGS

Are you the kind of fellow who does things?

Boys of Washington, D. C., have been asked this question by the Washington Rotary Club which is attempting to make up a list of boys who "do things."

"Achievement reports" were sent out to the boys through schools. Some of the questions asked of them are: Have you raised animals of any kind? Have you ever built a house or shed? Have you raised a garden, built a boat, dabbled in electricity, learned to play a musical instrument, won medals for scholarship or athletics, made toys?

These questions were merely suggestions and the boys were asked to tell about anything under the sun they have done.

STUNTS FOR YOU

Stunts!

Was there ever a time when a group of boys or girls wasn't ready for some?

A long list of stunts has been prepared by "Community Service" especially for boys and girls. Below a few are given. Try them at your next picnic, or some evening when all your friends come to your house for a visit.

The loser in each of the stunts described must pay a forfeit.

Stunt 1: Throw a handkerchief as far as possible without knotting or folding it.

Stunt 2: Place two pennies on your elbow. Shake them off and try to catch both with the same hand.

Stunt 3: Recite the Jack Horner rhyme and after each word say what number it is.

Stunt 4: Rooster Fight: Two boys stand facing each other, grasping their angles. The one who can push the other over first wins.

Stunt 5: Spell "Constantinople" backwards.

Stunt 6: Blindfold two players. Give each a tennis ball with instructions to throw it at a circle on a wall. The one who hits closest to the center is the winner.

Native of Cedar

A first grade teacher was asking her pupils about the nationality of their fathers.

"My father's a Hungarian," said one.

"Mine's a Roumanian," answered another.

"And, Sam, how about your father?"

"Oh, mine's a Cedarian," was Sam's reply.

The teacher didn't understand. "Where was he born?" she asked.

"Why, in Cedar avenue," said Sam, quite seriously.

"THE STEALERS"—RIVOLI

One of the most poignant and appealing screen dramas ever written is "The Stealers," William Christy Cabanne's eight reel super-special, released by Robertson-Cole, which opened at the Rivoli theater last night for a run of three days.

The picture is one of those rare epics of the screen which entertains and at the same time seems to have a serious purpose. In this case a tendency to make the spectator stop and think of the wonders of the universe and the power of divine faith.

The story deals with the regeneration of a clergyman who had prostituted his talents to defying God instead of serving him. How his rescue from the forces of evil influence others furnishes an original and interesting climax.

"The Stealers" is as spectacular in its scenics effects as it is in theme. The titles are colored—something new in pictures—and so are some of the big scenes in two of which more than 5,000 persons take part.

"JACK PICKFORD — RIVIERA

"It's an interesting change playing the part of Harry Bullway," says Jack Pickford, concerning his new Goldwyn picture "The Man Who Had Everything," at the Riviera today. "After playing 'The Little Shepherd' and then 'The Llano Kid' in 'The Double Dyed Deceiver,' it's fun to play the role of a wealthy young rounder like 'Harry.' After all he has a lot of good in him and it comes to the surface before the picture is finished. There is plenty of comedy and pathos too in 'The Man Who Had Everything.' That's why I like it."

"The Handicap"—Casino

Violet Hopson, who appears in the stellar role of "The Handicap," at the Casino today, is one of the very few young actresses who possess that rare gift of genius in that she can portray with equal skill a role that calls for light comedy or one in which great dramatic strength is required. She is at the same time an ingenue with the grace and lithesomeness of a debutante and a dramatic actress with the power and fire of a Bernhardt. In "The Handicap" this genius is shown to the greatest advantage, for the role, that of Marjorie Denton, calls for both qualities. As the society bud her youth and beauty form a fine background for the lighter style of acting, while as the persecuted heroine, fighting a combination of men and elements, she stands preeminent as a leading woman of sterling worth.

"GREAT REDEEMER"—STRAND

It is seldom that motion picture-goers are afforded so rich and rare a treat as was given the audiences that yesterday filled the Strand theatre to see "The Great Redeemer," the impressive Maurice Tourneur super production which will be shown at that thater again today. "The Great Redeemer" is no ordinary photoplay. There is no trace of mediocrity in it. The whole thing is superb. The story has to do with the career of Dan Malloy, a western desperado and "stick-up" man, who is regenerated after a chance encounter with a beautiful young mountain girl. The circumstances of their meeting in a way suggest "The Girl of the Golden West." Dan Malloy, following a foray in which he loots a mail train, seeks shelter from a pursuing posse in the girl's cabin. The latter, alarmed by his sudden entrance, wounds Dan with a bullet from her 32. Then in compassion, she binds his wound and hides him from the sheriff. From this meeting love develops. Dan, inspired by the girl's noble example, is on the point of renouncing his outlaw ways, when an old "pal" appears on the scene and prevails upon Dan to have one more venture as a knight of the mask and sixshooter. They are surrounded by the sheriff's men. Dan is captured and his pal shot dead. Dan is sentenced to prison. It is while Dan is in the penitentiary that the strange event which completely alters the course of his life takes place. This happening, in the nature of a latter-day miracle, is so startling and withal so deeply engrossing that to tell it now in detail would mar the complete pleasure of persons who intend seeing this superb cinematic production.

Harding has come down to a five-day week. That gives him one day to play golf and one day to rest. Two's a crowd in some flats.

Public Debate

BRITAIN IN INDIA

La Crosse, Wis., June 12, 1921.

Editor, Tribune and Leader-Press:

When speaking of Britain's oppression of India the reply is sometimes made, "But look at what Britain has done for India."

What has Britain done for India? Practically nothing. Conditions in British India do not compare favorably with those in Portuguese India.

In the latter there is universal manhood suffrage and the natives even vote for the president of Portugal. Imagine the natives in British India being allowed to vote for the premier of England!

Portugal has wisely granted the natives free elementary and secondary education and, in fact, since 1911, has made elementary education compulsory in her Indian possessions. Furthermore, the natives have been given a fairly large share in the government of their country.

But these measures are too broad for the comprehension of narrow minded imperialistic England.

Sincerely yours,

E. PETERSON.

REFORM BUREAU IN ATTEMPT TO BLOCK WORLD TITLE BOUT

Official Appears in Court to Ask Injunction to Stop the Fight

CLAIM AFFAIR IS PRIZE-FIGHT AND NOT MERE BOXING MATCH

Jersey City Officials Take Precautions to Guard Patrons

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson Tuesday declined to act on a motion by the International Reform bureau for an order directing Promoter Tex Rickard to show cause why he should not be restrained from staging the Dempsey-Carpentier match in this city Saturday. Mr. Stevenson, however, gave the representatives of the bureau the permission to apply to another vice chancellor for such an order and the clergyman departed to look up one. Mr. Stevenson explained that he was leaving town late today and could not hear the argument.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Robert Watson, an official of the International Reform bureau, accompanied by five Jersey City clergymen, appeared Tuesday in chancery court before Vice Chancellor Stevenson in an effort to block the Dempsey-Carpentier fight next Saturday.

Through counsel, the delegation sought an order directing Promoter Tex Rickard to show cause why an injunction restraining the bout should not be issued. A decision was expected Tuesday afternoon.

No one was in court representing Rickard.

Meanwhile, Mayor Hague was conferring with the heads of the fire and police departments and Rickard concerning protection of those who turned out for the bout.

Counsel for the reform bureau announced he would try to show that the Dempsey-Carpentier affair was a prize-fight and not a boxing match, that it would attract gamblers and pickpockets to Jersey City, and that it would demoralize the youth of the community. He said he was prepared to introduce affidavits by bureau members to the effect that they had interviewed both principals and had been told by each that he intended to win with a knockout.

Have Other Cards to Play

NEW YORK.—Dr. Wilbur F. Krafts, superintendent of the International Reform bureau, announced here today that the application of the Rev. Robert Watson for an injunction in the chancery court at Jersey City to stop the Dempsey-Carpentier fight was only the first move by the bureau in its effort to prevent the fight. He said there were many courts in New Jersey competent to issue an injunction and that if unsuccessful in one, representatives of the bureau would renew the effort in others. "You may rest assured, "said Dr. Crafts, "that Mr. Watson, who is president of the bureau, has evidence to support his case. All the world knows that the match is a prize-fight and not a boxing contest such as is permitted by the New Jersey law, but it takes specific evidence to prove the contention."

whisky as medicine.

Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts, Democrat, declared he was proud to stand on the floor of the house and denounce the pending bill.

"We are told by the historians," Gallivan said, "that Egypt had physicians 3,000 years ago and they also were regulated by prohibition laws that compelled them to prescribe according to the statute. If they adopted any treatment of their own they were put to death.

"We have one conspicuous historical relic of the medical skill of Egypt—the mummy. The physicians of that time preserved the bodies of their patients after death better than they did in life. Egypt also died from too much regulation by law.

"The gentleman from Minnesota may have this historical record in mind and is preparing the way for having his mummified body placed beside that of Rameses I., 3,000 years hence, when this land of the free has become like that of Egypt, a place for only one industry, of excavation to uncover the evidences of reform legislation."

Representative Ryan of New York started a commotion when he declared that the people of his state were not going to enforce the prohibition law; that they didn't want it. He referred to the recent action of the American Federation of Labor convention, demanding the right to light wines and beer as beverages.

Mr. Box Cites N. Y. Law

To this Mr. Box of Texas replied sharply that the New York legislature had recently passed a very drastic prohibition enforcement law. He asked Mr. Ryan if he would dare rise in the New York legislature and boast that the people of the state did not intend to obey that law.

Mr. Box predicted if the breweries were permitted to make beer for medicinal purposes it would result in the reopening of the saloon.

During the debate Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, and Dr. E. C. Dinwiddie, for many years a leading prohibition lobbyist in Washington, but who has split with the league over the present legislation, occupied seats in the gallery as far apart as possible.

The Campbell bill represents the recommendation of Dr. Dinwiddie and the discarded judiciary committee bill was the child of the Anti-Saloon league.

OBREGON PROMISES PROTECTION FOR U. S. OIL HOLDINGS

Declares Mexican Constitutional Clause Will Never be Used Retroactively

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A signed letter from President Obregon of Mexico to the American press published Tuesday, asserts that the clause in the Carranza constitution declaring oil rights the property of the nation and not of the individual land-owners will not be enforced retroactively against American property-holders in Mexico. This clause in the constitution is the point of the issue raised in recent state department communications to Obregon, insisting upon a treaty declaration of the rights of Americans as a necessary preliminary to recognition of the present Mexican government.

U. S. Insists on Treaty

Sources close to the Harding administration indicated on Tuesday that while the letter of President Obregon was a welcome assurance, the United States would hold to its insistence upon full treaty recognition of American rights. It is pointed out that Carranza made similar assurances but that later he issued decrees under which great American-owned properties became liable to confiscation.

"Every private right acquired prior to May 1, 1917, when the new constitution was adopted, will be respected and fully protected," said President Obregon's statement. "The famous article 27, one clause of which declares the nation's ownership of subsoil rights in petroleum, will never be given retroactive effect, nor has it ever been given retroative effect."

Obregon Admits Delay

There has been delay, Obregon admits, in exacting a law carrying out the article in the spirit indicated, but this delay has been due to the absorption of the Mexican congress in constructive domestic legislation and furnished no just ground for the suspicion that confiscation is contemplated.

"When it (congress) acts on article 27," Obregon said, "as it will shortly the world may rest assured that private property rights will be respected in accordance with the established principles of civilized nations. Until that time we feel that foreign capital should rest content with an administrative policy that is safeguarding every property right and is earnestly seeking to meet every just obligation."

Obregon further said that "not only have we made repeated and official declaration that article 27 would not be given retroactive effect, but we have forbidden any action whatsoever that might give any such appearance."

BURGLAR FALLS TO DEATH

CHICAGO.—Failing in an attempt to make a fourteen-foot leap from a second story window to an adjacent roof, an unidentified burglar fell to the cement pavement and was instantly killed here early Tuesday. The intruder had entered a room on the second floor of a dwelling, but awoke its occupant. His way of entrance was barred and he took the only other means of egress, through a window to an adjoining roof. He missed by about six inches and was dead when picked up.

HUSBAND PARDONS ELOPERS AND ALL THREE GO HOME

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gilbert and their former chauffeur, William Fogel, principals in a love triangle, left for Allentown, Pa., Monday afternoon. Fogel drove the car in which he had eloped with Mrs. Gilbert a month ago—but he rode alone. The Gilberts had boarded a Pullman.

A plea by the wronged husband saved the wife and her chauffeur from three years imprisonment on a statutory charge.

"I want my home," said Mr. Gilbert, wealthy manufacturer, to Judge Backus. "A lot of people may think I am an easy mark, but I have seen enough of the world to know that they are simply narrow-minded. I am ready to forgive and forget. I shall find Fogel a job so he may provide for his wife and five-year-old child."

PICTURE MEN PLAN CAMPAIGN AGAINST HTE "MOVIE TRUST"

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Delegates to the motion picture theater owners of America, in annual convention here Tuesday considered a plan formulated by its executive committee Monday night for formation of a co-operative distributors' organization among independents. Encroachment of some motion picture producers into the exhibition game was responsible for the action of the committee.

The plan calls for raising of a two million dollar fund on a percentage basis from every motion picture theater owner and independent producer in the country. It will be spent on a national advertising campaign in opposition to the Famous Players Lasky corporation, of which Adolph Zukor is president, according to plans.

Charges were made at the convention that a "movie trust" controls 50 percent of the moving picture business in the United States.

"SHOOTING STARS" IN COMET'S TRAIL ARE DUE TONIGHT

Our old earth is scheduled to put up a free spectacular fireworks show Tuesday night. A full fledged meteor shower may be looked for Tuesday and the following two nights, due to the earth being billed to strike the trail of meteorites following the Pons-Winnecke comet.

The La Crosse weather bureau explains that the comet, a five and one quarter year comet, passed the earth's orbit on June 7, and that the earth is now due to rush through the swarm of meteoric matter that follows in its path. They state that there is no danger because the earth's atmosphere is deep and dense enough to burn up all ordinary meteoric matter before reaching the earth's surface.

If the weather is clear the meteorites should be visible in the northern sky.

"NO PLACE FOR THE HOMELY GIRLS;" SO SHE TAKES POISON

BALTIMORE, Md. — "Men only look for beauty; they don't care about the real homemaker any longer." Virginia Hicks, 20 years old, who tried to commit suicide Sunday night by swallowing poison, explained that there was no place in the world for the homely girls.

"Men don't care what you do for them," she said. "They are all for the girl who spends everything on clothes and makes a big show. They don't care if a girl is good, self-respecting, and a real home-maker; all they want is a big display for their money."

COMPROMISE PEACE RESOLUTION AGREED UPON BY CONFEREES

Plan Action in Both Houses Before Recess for Over Week-end Holiday

WASHINGTON.—A compromise draft of the Knox-Porter resolution to end the state of war with Germany and Austria was agreed upon Tuesday by republican conferees of the senate and house.

The republicans planned to get the compromise to a vote in the house Wednesday and in the senate later in the week, so as to place it in President Harding's hands before the week-end congressional recess.

The compromise resolution, it was said, followed the house plan of declaring the state of war with Germany and Austria at an end instead of repealing the war declarations, but senate provisions for protection of American rights, for reservations affecting enemy alien property and privileges of the treaties of Versailles, Trianon and other post war engagements were said to have been retained.

The doctor recommends it for building up the body. The Scalp Specialist utilizes it to eliminate dandruff, etc., and the Hair Dresser uses it to add strength and lustre to the Hair. These being well known facts it is strange that manufacturers of shampoos do not use it more, but for commercial reasons they do not. Lady Bell Olive Oil Shampoo is about 90% pure olive oil, other pure oils being added to make a perfect shampoo, and if you want "Hair We All Admire" give it a trial. BREEDERS PICNIC AT ONALASKA IS DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Big Crowd Enjoys Duroc-Jersey Breeders' and Travelers' Outing Saturday

The State Duroc Jersey Hog Breeders' picnic held at the Agricultural School grounds last Saturday was by far the largest breed picnic ever held in the county. The day was ideal and everything was carried out just as planned.

The Commercial Travelers held their picnic at the school at the same time, and it proved to be a most congenial gathering.

Two hundred feet of tables were placed on the lawn and travelers, breeders and visitors all sat down at the same table and ate as if they were one immense family. Two orchestras were on the job all day, consequently there was no lack of music.

Immediately after refreshments, a short and very interesting program was rendered by both organizations present. The address of welcome was given by Mayor E. Comeau of Onalaska; Response by Mr. Parker, of Janesville.

Brief addresses were given by Bob Evans, of the American Record Assoc, Chicago; Joe Hegge, Assist. National Record Association, Chicago; T. H. Campion, Madison; B. C. Everinghim Chamber of Commerce, La Crosse; and W. Kelley of La Crosse. Following the program, the Traveler's pulled off a few stunts and contests and the Breeders staged a ball game between Bangor and Onalaska. These were the closing events of the day.

The breeders of the county and of the state wish to express their sincere thanks and hearty appreciation to all who so ably assisted in the success of this meeting. We wish especially to mention the Agricultural school and its force of men who spared no effort in our behalf. The School being the center of the agricultural activities of the county surrounded by the most beautiful and commodious grounds in the county afforded ideal accommodation for the crowd. The building was thrown open and everyone made welcome. The spacious auditorium was cleared of the seats and dancing was one of the principal enjoyments of the day. When the light shower in the evening made the assembly hunt shelter, there was room for all.

Special mention is also due to the business men of La Crosse, Mr. Doerflinger, La Crosse Plow Company, Tilman Bros. Gibson Ice Cream Company for dishes, tables, chairs and service, and to the business men of Onalaska, Mr. Dave Stickler, Peterson Bros. for donations and service.

Much credit is also due to Mr. L. F. Atwater for the able manner in which he planned and directed the activities of the meeting. No effort was spared by Mr. Atwater in making the day the biggest day for the Durocs that was ever held in La Crosse county.

More vital than all else to the Durocs is that back of Mr. Atwater stood the following officers of the breed: Ed. Peters, President; Ray Hawkins, Vice-president; Homer Wolf, Secretary; Alex Stachowski, Treasurer, and back of them all stands the La Crosse County Duroc Breeders.

REPORT FALLING OFF IN LABOR DEMAND IN STATE OF WISCONSIN

Placements of Women, However, Increase While Those of Men are Fewer

MADISON, Wis.—A great falling off in demand for common labor is noted by the industrial commission in its report on labor conditions of the state during the last month. Placements of common labor this year by the eleven free employment offices for the month of May totalled 586 compared with 1,493 a year ago.

The eleven offices of the state in May referred 6,992 applications to positions, and in 5,326 cases were notified that employers had hired the men referred to them. This is said to represent in volume of business of about 35 per cent, as compared to May, 1920, when 9,395 applicants were referred.

Placements of women greatly increased this year, while those of men fell. There were 1,908 women established in jobs in May compared with 1,095 in that month a year ago, while the decrease in the number of placements of men fell from 6,298 to 2,418.

Factory work has fallen off largely, the commission has found, while farm work has almost doubled, amounting to more than all placements made with factories of the state.

The number of domestics in demand had gone up, with 409 placements during May of this year compared to 290 a year ago, with the number of women placed in usual work jumping from 174 in May, 1920, to 1,214 in May, 1921.

PROHIBITION HAS MADE MORE DRUNKARDS THAN THE OLD LAWS DECLARES SPEAKER AT MEDICAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—The doctors of the country were called upon today to unite in an effort to repeal the Volstead act by Dr. W. Wallace Fritz of Philadelphia president of the Allied Medical Association of America in an address at the annual convention of the organization. He declared the prohibition law was a curse and made more drunkards than the old laws did.

"The precedent established by the Volstead act," he said, "restricts practice and if the association values its therapeutic liberty it must meet it with a protest that will command the attention. The medical profession should not permit itself to be placed in a position before the whole world as liquor salesmen and drug stores as saloons."

"The question is frequently asked: "What benefit, if any, has the public derived from the enactment of the prohibition law. From general observation it has been a curse to them and to our country. It has taken away pure liquor and beer and has substituted poison and deleterious liquors and beer. It is teaching the public to secretly drink behind closed doors and getting drunk. It is causing gambling and immorality in the homes. It is causing death after death of the innocent public. It is causing blindness by the score. Are we physicians going to make a stand for the good of the public health, and our country, or are we going to sit quietly and suck our thumbs? We must decide which is the greater evil from a medical standpoint: Prohibition or home brew, or the free use of light wines and beer properly distilled and brewed under government standard."

SEASONABLE BEAUTY AID

We find you can bring out the beauty of your hair to its very best advantage by washing it with canthrox. It makes a very simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff, dirt and excess oil, leaving a wonderfully clean, wholesome feeling. After its use you will find that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is never streaked in appearance and is always bright, soft and fluffy; so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. Just use a teaspoonful of canthrox, which you can get from any good druggist's, dissolve it in a cup of hot water; this makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.—Adv.

SHOE PITCHING RULES TO GOVERN EVENT ON FOURTH

The horse shoe pitching event on the program of the athletic and aquatic festival to be held on the Fourth promises to be an interesting event. There are a number of expert "barn yard golfers" in the city who are contemplating entering and competition is expected to be keen.

Following are the rules which will govern the event on that day:

National Rules For Horse Shoe Pitching

The standard distance shall be 40 feet between pegs.

The ground shall be as level as possible. In indoor pitching, contestants will pitch into boxes. Boxes not to exceed 6 inches in height.

The pitcher's box shall extend three feet on either side, to the rear and in front of peg. A contestant when pitching may stand anywhere inside the pitcher's box. Any pitcher delivering a shoe outside the pitcher's box shall forfeit the value of that pitch.

The pegs shall be of iron, one inch in diameter, lean one inch toward opposite peg and extend 8 inches above level of ground.

In four handed games partners shall have the right to coach each other. Those not in the game are forbidden to coach or molest, or in any way to interfere with the pitchers.

No contestant shall walk across to the other peg and examine the position of the shoes before making his first or final pitch. All contestants must pitch both shoes from the pitcher's box into the opposite pitching box or forfeit a point to his opponent.

A regulation game shall consist of 21 points, and the contestant first scoring this number shall be declared the winner.

A shoe that does not remain within 8 inches of the peg shall not be counted.

A ringer shall score three points. To be a ringer a shoe must encircle the peg far enough to allow a straight rule to touch both caulks, and clear the peg.

All equals shall be counted as ties. That is, if both contestants have one shoe each equal distance from the peg or against it, or ringers, they are tied, and the next closest shoe counts.

If one contestant should have two ringers, and the other one, the pitcher having the two ringers shall score 3 points.

In case of a tie on all four shoes, such as four ringers, or four shoes each 1 inch from the peg, no score shall be recorded, and the contestant who pitched the last shall be awarded the lead.

In case of any dispute, or where the rules do not specifically cover a disputed point, the referee or committee in charge shall have full and final jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By a vote of 250 to 93, the house passed the Willis-Campbell bill to prevent the sale of beer to the sick.

BALL CLUBS ADOPT SPECIAL DEFENSE AGAINST BABE RUTH

NEW YORK.—The sight of Babe Ruth, the home run king, laying down a bunt along the third base line, is likely to become more familiar to fans around the American league circuit than heretofore.

Several clubs have adopted a special defense against the slugger, moving the third baseman toward the shortstop sector, the shortstop to second base, with the second baseman playing in short right field. Noting this, Manager Huggins and Ruth believe they can "cross" their opponents with an occasional bunt and succeed in drawing into positions making hits easier to obtain.

Ruth on two or three occasions this week tried out the scheme.

STODDARD DEFEATS BURNS FRUIT HOUSE AT HIXON FIELD

The Stoddard aggregation defeated the Burns Fruit House in baseball at Hixon field Sunday afternoon, 9 to 7. Rick, pitching for the winners, allowed 7 hits, but received poor support at times. Bgley, Fruit House hurler, was hit freely, including a home run by Koblitz.

Batteries: Stoddard—Rick and Hainesworth; Fruit House—Bigley and Knothe.

S&F JUNIORS BEAT GOOSE GREEN TEAM AT COPELAND PARK

The Starrum and Fraser Juniors defeated the Goose Green Sluggers at Copeland park by a score of 10 to 9.

Peters, of the S&F's, pitched a no hit game until the sixth inning. He also starred in the final frame when his hit brought in the winning tally of the game. The Sluggers tied the score in the eighth frame.

Batteries: S&F—Peters and Miller; Sluggers—Theep and Renler.

"Do you know, I often wonder why men do not give more attention to the 'pedigree' of the cigars they smoke?"

"What do you mean, George?"

"Well, sir, I'm skeptical of a cigar I know nothing about. I prefer to know what a cigar contains and how it's made. It's the most personal thing I buy—it goes into my mouth."

"There's something to that, George."

"Take Adlon, for example. It's my choice because I know how it's made. In my life-time experience, first as a cigar-maker and since as a dealer, I've never found a cigar at any price, that can compare with Adlon.

"Let me give you just five of the reasons:

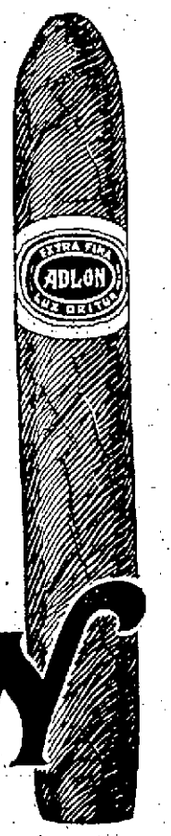
"In the first place, Adlon is a distinctive blend of rich Havana filler, with fine Sumatra wrapper. Adlon is the net result of some five hundred experiments in blends.

"Next, Adlon hasn't that 'gum taste' you'll get in many cigars. An exclusive Adlon process removes these 'gums'. There's nothing in Adlon to offset its goodness.

"Third, Adlon is an economical cigar. You can smoke it clear down as far as you can retain a finger-hold on it. And the last draw will be as fine-flavored as the first.

"Fourth, Adlon is a clean cigar. It is produced under unexcelled sanitary conditions and is absolutely pure.

"And last, Adlon is a cigar of unmistakable individuality in its mildness. It is exactly what a cigar ought to be for the heavy smoker; and, of course, that means it is the best cigar for any smoker."



You can get Adlon—the best cigar you can buy—from any good dealer.

STOCK MARKET STEADIER

Rail Stocks Add to Early Gains and Other Stocks Follow in Rally

NEW YORK.—Rails displayed more stability than any other group, adding several instances to the opening gains on the stock exchange Tuesday. Mexican Petroleum extended its loss; but soon made half way recovery. Other reversals and rallies of the morning were led by shippings, tobaccos, rubbers and several of the steels and equipments, notably Bethlehem and Harvester. Sears-Roebuck continued to feature the heavy specialties with some of the prominent chemical and fertilizers issues.

Call money opened at five per cent and the firmer rate of exchange on London was attributed to the virtual settlement of the British coal strike.

Leading shares were strong at the opening of the stock market. Transportations made initial gains running from large fractions to 1½ points in response to the proposed plan of the Washington administration to fund the country's railroad debt. Oils, shippings, motors and steels also made substantial advances. The market soon became unsettled, however, Mexican Petroleum forfeiting its advance of 3¼ points while United States Rubber reacted about two points to a new low record.

Buying of steels and equipments and a brisk rally of oils under lead of Mexican Petroleum lifted the market out of its rut in the final hour. The closing was strong.

WHEAT PRICES LOWER

Strike Talk, Affecting Railroads and Elevators, Has Bearish Influence

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat prices declined Tuesday largely in response to talk of possible strike troubles affecting railroads and elevators. Besides, country sales especially in the southwest appeared to be on a heavy scale. Demand here was confined for the most part to houses with eastern connections. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 2¼c lower, with July $1.26 to $1.27 and September $1.22½ to $1.23½, were followed by a material setback all around and then something of a rally.

Bullish crop reports from the northwest were ignored, and the market descended rapidly after mid-day, with holders pressing to liquidate. The close was semi-demoralized 6 to 8⅝c net lower, with July $1.19½ to $1.22 and September $1.17 to $1.17½.

Corn declined with wheat and touched new low-record prices for the season. After opening ⅛ to ⅞ cent off, including September at 61¼ tod 61½c, the market underwent a further sag.

No adequate support developed in the late dealings. The close was heavy, at 2⅜ to 3¼c net decline with September 59 to 59¼c.

Oats turned downward as a result of the action of other cereals, starting unchanged to ¼c lower, September 39⅛c and later showing losses for all deliveries.

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

DECLARES NATION IS ACCEPTING A LOWER STANDARD OF LIVING

Middle Class Harder Hit Than the Rich or the Poor Says Convention Speaker

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—"The people of America are accepting a lower standard of living," said John Ihlder, manager of the civic development department of the chamber of commerce of the United States, in an address here Tuesday before the national conference of social workers. "According to our pre-war standard of living we are probably a million and a quarter houses short according to the standard we are beginning to accept as a new normal, the shortage is very much less."

"Today many cities are persuaded that their housing accommodations are ample because the waiting lists in the real estate offices have diminished. Yet our population is growing faster than it was a year ago, due to the increase of immigration."

Mr. Ihlder explained that apparently existing accommodations have been sub-divided, each family accepting less than in pre-war days. He pointed out that while last year saw less construction than in many years the demand for bath-tubs was as high as it has ever gone, reasoning that the thousands of single family dwellings were converted into multi-family dwellings.

The change in living standards, he asserted, has hit the so-called middle class, harder than either the rich or the poor. The poor, Mr. Ihlder said were accustomed to the crowded conditions, although during the war with higher wages even the poor developed themselves. Steps taken to remedy conditions in prewar days were not being continued, he said. Building prices will not go down to prewar levels Mr. Ihlder said. "But that is not essential," he continued, "what is essential is that they become stabilized so that a house erected today will not have to compete with as good a house erected at a smaller cost five or ten years hence. To this new price level we shall adjust ourselves."

"Meanwhile, we must maintain our living standards as these are expressed in brick and mortar, in type and plan of building.

"The good house, the single-family house, is the least expensive house. Rents for inferior accommodations in tenement-house cities are higher than in small house cities."

TWO BANK ROBBERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL AT EAU CLAIRE

Communication Phoned to the Local Police Department Late on Monday

Stanley Russell and Gust Sanders, alleged bank robbers, escaped from the county jail at Eau Claire some time during Monday night, according to communication received by the local police from authorities at Eau Claire.

Both men, it is alleged, were connected directly with the looting of five small banks in Wisconsin and Illinois during the past two months and were said to have been committed to the Eau Claire institution on May 19. A third man was also held on a similar charge but did not escape.

According to statement of the sheriff at Eau Claire, the men made their escape from the city in a large high-powered automobile. The local police were notified to watch for the pair.

Frankhauser, of Hillsdale. Former Congressman J. M. C. Smith of Charlotte, republican, was opposed by Howard W. Cavanaugh, Battle Creek, democrat. VIRGINIAN PARTY RECEIVED MONDAY BY BRITISH KING

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—King George received in Buckingham palace Monday a deputation of men and women from Virginia headed by Prof. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee university, who came to England to present to the British nation a bronze copy of Houdon's famous marble statue of George Washington, the original of which stands in the rotunda of the state capitol of Virginia in Richmond. The statue was presented to Great Britain by Virginia as an expression of the friendly feeling for the country whose sons were among the first settlers of the state.

The king cordially welcomed the Americans to England and expressed the hope that they would take away with them the happiest memories of their trip.

SUBSTITUTE ACTION FOR DELAY DEMAND OF HOUSE MEMBERS

New Congressmen Dissatisfied With Progress of Special Session

CALL MEETING FOR WEDNESDAY TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION

Beck Among 100 Signers of Call for Conference

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representative Ansorge of New York, issued a statement Tuesday asserting that the new republican members of the house were dissatisfied with the progress made by congress at the special session and disclosing that he and ten others had joined in a call for a conference Wednesday night of approximately 100 new republican members to discuss the situation.

"We are not meeting in any spirit of revolt," said Mr. Ansorge, adding that the new members wanted to cut some of the red tape and substitute action for delay."

Mr. Ansorge said none of the objects for which congress was called into special session had been accomplished.

"Nor is there definite promise as to when they will be," he added. "There are upwards of a hundred first term republicans in the house and they all feel as I do, that we have not been permitted to make our influence felt.

Want Action

"Congress was called into special session for certain definite purposes, namely, for revision of the cumbersome, unwieldy and inequitable system of taxation, the passage of a fair protective tariff and the passage of a peace resolution. None of these objects have as yet been accomplished, nor is there any definite promise as to when they will be.

"Nearly three months have passed since the calling of the special session and we want to see action, spelled with a capital A.

"We believe, with the republican party, that what is best for the country is best for the party and we want to impress that thought on some of the older members. Many of them have been here so long they seem to have forgotten it.

Movement Not Revolt

"We are not meeting in any spirit of revolt. We have come more recently from the people and our opinion should have some weight. Congress is all tied up with red tape. We want to cut some of that red tape and substitute action for delay. The seniority rule can go too far. We feel that our districts have as much right to representation as has 'Uncle Joe Cannon's.'

"This is not a new thought. I have talked it over with the new members and they believe that conferences from time to time will serve a good purpose."

Others who signed the call for the conference are Representatives Clark, New York; Gernerd, Pennsylvania; Knight, Ohio; Hogan, New York; Arentz, Nevada; Beck, Wisconsin; Beedy, Maine; Fenn, Connecticut; Funk, Illinois; and Lineberger, California.

BLAINE VETOES BILL TO ESTABLISH STATE FINGER PRINT BUREAU

Disapproves Fowler Bill; Power Already Rests With Board of Control

MADISON, Wis.—Gov. Blaine on Monday vetoed the Fowler bill providing for the establishment of a finger print bureau in the state. "This bill creates in the board of control what is described as a 'state finger print bureau' to consist of a director and necessary assistants," says Governor Blaine's veto. "It also makes it mandatory upon municipalities to provide a police department with the necessary equipment for the taking of finger prints in the manner to be determined by the directors.

"Substantially all that this bill provides that may be done by the 'finger print bureau' can now be done by administration through the board of control, at least in the penal institutions under their charge.

"While the bill carries no additional appropriations, I assume that provisions have been made to take care of the expense of enforcing the measure in the appropriation bill for the broad of control. Unless there is some pressing public necessity for the establishment of bureaus within existing boards, I vigorously protest against this method of increasing the expenses of the state government. There is no crying need for the legislation proposed, and as I stated, there is sufficient power in the board of control to do all that this bill does, so far as there is a public necessity therefore.

"By way of emphasis I want to state that I look with disfavor upon the creation of additional tax-consuming agencies."

TRAINING AT CAMP OF CHALLENGER TAKES ON SERIOUS ASPECT TODAY

MANHASSET, N. J.—Training at the camp of Georges Carpentier took on a mysterious aspect again this morning. Soon after Georges came in from the woods police guards were thrown about the camp and things began to hum behind the barn.

Manager Descamps refused to tell what was happening. He said, however, that Carpentier was working hard and had been let loose. His sparring session was on the afternoon's program and it was announced that the heavyweights who should have arrived late last week were on the job at last.

Keen-eyed experts, who have been sizing up the challenger's physical characteristics vary in their opinion, of whether Georges' heavy under pinning will stand him well or prove a handicap in the battle with Dempsey next Saturday.

For a man weighing not more than 172 pounds heavy calves are somewhat rare and seldom have been noted on successful heavyweights. Excepting one or two champions, one of whom was Jim Jeffries, it will be recalled that most all of them did not have large legs.

A size-up of the present champion shows his calves to be much smaller than those of Carpentier. These experts who have followed pugilism for years always have contended that heavy calves were a handicap to heavyweights.

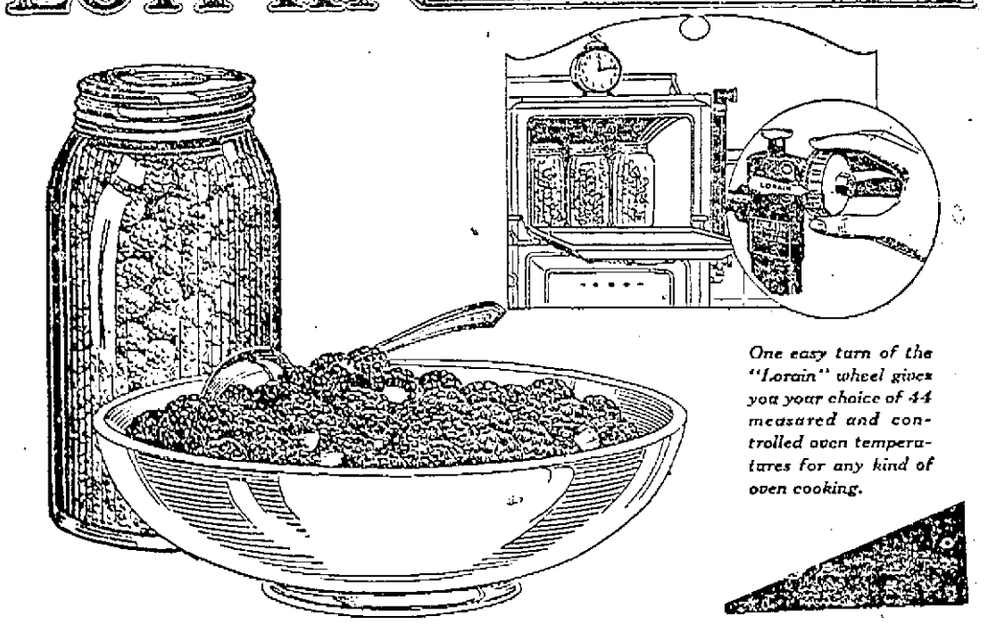
LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR



One easy turn of the "Lorain" wheel gives you your choice of 44 measured and controlled oven temperatures for any kind of oven cooking.

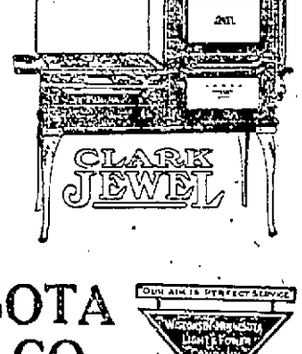
A new way to put up berries

Here is a new way of putting up berries for Winter use. It is so easy and simple that even an inexperienced cook can follow it safely and successfully. It is called "Lorain" Oven Canning, because it is done in the oven of a gas range equipped with the "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator.

Select fresh, ripe berries. Pick clean, wash and put into sterilized glass jars. Pour in enough syrup, made of one cup sugar to four cups of water, to fill within ¼ inch of top. Put on tops loosely, then place jars in oven. Set "Lorain" wheel at 250 degrees and forget all about it for one hour. Then remove jars, screw tops on tightly and that's all there is to it.

The result will be raspberries, gooseberries, blueberries or blackberries for pies, sauces, desserts, that will taste as though just picked.

You can put up all kinds of fruit and vegetables the same way, just as easily, and have a preserve shelf loaded down with good things to eat all during the long Winter months when such things are luxuries.



CLARK JEWEL Gas Ranges

are equipped with the "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator. You should see these beautiful and economical stoves. They represent the last word in range construction. Let us tell you about "Lorain" and how it reduces the hours of kitchen work to the minimum. Ask about whole meal cooking in the oven and about putting up vegetables, fruits and berries the "Lorain" way. We have a book for you on "LORAIN" OVEN CANNING. May we send it to you? If so, write for it, or, better still, drop in and get it.

Don't Miss this Big Vacation LUGGAGE Special

Hand Trunks, $5.95

This is a sort of sawed-off steamer trunk in appearance, and it looks as if it would last for 100 years.

It is 20 inches long, 16½ inches high and 9 inches thick, made of heavy, indestructible fiber and with the lock and clasps and corner buffers of a trunk.

It will hold twice as much as the average suitcase, yet it isn't too big to take along as hand luggage on a railroad trip; and it will fit neatly on the tonneau floor of an automobile.

The lock and clasps and buffers and hinges alone look as if they were worth more than $5.95.

Yet you get the whole outfit for that price.

The reason is that the thing is really an army officer's field desk and filing cabinet—fully fitted up inside with filing devices.

But the demand for army officer's field equipment no longer exists. So you can get the case—and dump out the filing devices—and you have a dandy little hand-trunk that you can travel clear around the world with and the price is only $5.95
